Now there is difference in day and night

Day Six

On the sixth day, God added creation to the land. He made lions and tigers and bears. He made rabbits and sheep and cows. He added everything from ants to zebras to the land. But He still felt something was missing. So God asked Michael to enjoy and take care of all that God had made.

Day Seven

After six days, the whole universe was completed. On the seventh day God had a nice long rest and enjoys looking at all He has made.

Day ONE

In the beginning there was no earth or sky or sea or animals. And then God spoke in the darkness. "Let there be light!" And right away there was light, banishing the darkness and allowing the infinite space. "That's good," said God. "From now on, when it's dark it will be 'night' and when it's light, it will be 'day'."

The evening came and the night passed and then the light returned. That was the first day.

Day Two

On the second day, God made the earth and over it. He carefully tore a vast hole in the sky and poured the water in. "That's good too!" said God. He spoke back and forth to himself. "The second day was over."

Day Three

The third morning, God looked up and said, "The earth needs to be a bit more organized." So He put all the water in one place and all the dry land in another. "That's good," said God. He spoke back and forth to himself. "The third day was over."

Day Four

On the fourth day, God looked around and thought, "The daylight it needs a bit more and the night a bit too dark." So He made the sun to give the day and the moon and stars to add a bit of sparkle to the night. He brought them in the day and the night and said to add a bit of sparkle to the night. "That's good," said God. He spoke back and forth to himself. "The fourth day was over."

Day Five

The next day, God turned his attention to the water. He had collected a lot of water in the water. "That's good," said God. He spoke back and forth to himself. "The fifth day was over."

Day ONE

In the beginning there was no earth or sky or sea or animals. And then God spoke in the darkness: "Let there be light!" And right away there was light, scattering the darkness and showing the infinite space. "That's good!" said God. "From now on, when it's dark it will be 'night' and when it's light, it will be 'day'."

The evening came and the night passed and then the light returned. That was the first day.

Day Two

On the second day, God made the earth and over it He carefully hung a vast blue sky.
He stood back and admired His creation. "That's good too!" said God and the second day was over.

Day Three

The next morning God looked around and thought, "the earth needs to be a bit more organized." So, He put all the water in one place and all the dry land in another. When He had finished that, God made plants to cover the land. Dandelions and daffodils appeared. All sorts of trees and grasses began to grow. "It's looking great", said God and that was the end of the third day.

Day Four

On the fourth day, God looked around and thought, "the daylight still needs a bit more work and the night is just too dark." So, He made the sun to light the sky during the day and the moon and stars to add a bit of sparkle to the night. He hung them in the sky and stepped back to look at his work. "This is coming along very well," said God.

Day Five

The next day, God turned his attention to the water he had collected in the oceans. "I want these waters teeming with life!" As soon as He said it, it was so. In no time, there were millions of small fish darting through the shallow water and huge fish swimming in the ocean. God made birds, too. He sent them soaring through the air. "Ahh, that IS good!", said God. The dusk fell over the water and the sky grew dark and that was the end of the fifth day.

Day Six

On the sixth day, God added creatures to the land. He made lions and tigers and bears. He made rabbits and sheep and cows. He added everything from ants to zebras to the land. But He still felt something was missing. So God added Mankind to enjoy and take care of all that He had created. God looked around and was happy with all He had made.

Day Seven

After six days, the whole universe was completed. On the seventh day God had a nice long rest and enjoyed looking at all He had made.
